SECTION 1. All elections or appointments made by the Board of Trustees shall be by ballot.

ARTICLE VII.—Amendments.

SECTION 1. It shall require a vote of the majority of all members elect to alter or amend these By-Laws, notice for the same having been given in writing two weeks previously.

SEC. 2. It shall require an unanimous vote of the members present, at any meeting, to suspend these Rules or By-Laws.

RULES OF ORDER

—FOR THE—

Regulation of Proceedings in the Institute and Board of Managers.

SECTION 1. The President shall preserve order, and may speak to points of order in preference to members, and shall decide questions of order, subject to appeal, as is usual.

SEC. 2. When any member is about to speak, he shall address the President, and confine himself strictly to the question under discussion.

SEC. 3. When a motion or resolution is made, it shall be handed, if in writing, to the Secretary, and by him re-read before it is debated; and every resolution shall be reduced to writing, if a member desires it.

SEC. 4. No new motion or proposition shall be admitted under color of amendment, as a substitute for the motion or resolution under debate. Any member, however, may call for a division of the question, when the same admits it.

SEC. 5. When a question is under debate, no motion or proposition shall be received, but to adjourn; to lay on the table for the previous question; to postpone indefinitely; to postpone to a given day; to commit; to amend—which several motions shall take precedence in the order as here arranged. Motion to adjourn shall always be in order, except when a member is speaking, and shall be put without debate.

SEC. 6. If at any meeting a member doubt the decision of a vote, he may call for a division, and the members voting on each side shall then be counted by tellers appointed for that purpose by the President, and the result declared by him.

SEC. 7. No member who did not vote with the majority on any question, shall move the reconsideration of the vote. Reconsideration of a question can only be had at first subsequent meeting, notice having been given at the previous meeting.

SEC. 8. Voting by proxy shall not be allowed.

SEC. 9. A motion for amendment, until decided, shall preclude further amendments of the main question.

SEC. 10. Motions and reports may be committed, at the pleasure of the meeting.

SEC. 11. All questions shall be propounded in the order in which they are moved; and in filling blanks, the largest sum and the longest time shall be put first.

SEC. 12. The yeas and nays shall be entered on the minutes at the request of any two members.

SEC. 13. The meeting may resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole at any time, when propositions made shall not be entered on the journal, without they are carried in committee; and when in committee, the President shall leave the chair and appoint a chairman.

SEC. 14. If at any meeting, questions should arise that are not treated upon above, they shall be decided upon by an appeal to "Cushing's Manual."

REGULATIONS FOR THE LIBRARY.

SECTION 1. The Library shall be open every day throughout the year, from 9 o'clock A. M. until 10 o'clock P. M., Sundays, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving Day, Christmas, New Years Day and Washington's Birthday excepted. Sundays from 12:30 to 4:30 P. M.

SEC. 2. The Librarian shall keep a full and accurate catalogue of all the books, magazines, maps, charts, and works of art belonging to the Institute, and shall keep a record of the same in a book provided for that purpose, with the names of the donors, and shall, through the Corresponding Secretary, make suitable acknowledgments of the same.

SEC. 3. He shall register in a book prepared for that purpose, and to be kept in the Library Room, the names of each member of the Institute, and shall in no case deliver a book to any member, until the name of such member shall have been so registered.

SEC. 4. He shall enter in a register kept for that purpose, the title of every volume delivered by him; the number corresponding to the name of the person to whom delivered; the time of taking and returning the same, together with the forfeitures arising from every default.

SEC. 5. He shall see that all dues and forfeitures incurred by the members, are properly collected as provided in Article IV, Section 2, and account for the same to the Treasurer, as hereinbefore provided.

SEC. 6. He shall submit to the Board of Trustees a monthly report, stating the amount of moneys received and expended by him; report the names of such members as may refuse to pay their duties and forfeitures, or lose or damage any book belonging to the Library, the names of all delinquents, with the amount of dues remaining unpaid, and recommend the adoption of such measures as he may judge necessary for the greater efficiency and usefulness of the Institute.

SEC. 7. He may forbid any person, excepting members of the Board, to remove a book from its place in the Library, without his permission.

SEC. 8. He shall replace, or cause to be replaced, the books in proper order upon the shelves as soon as convenient after they are returned, having first examined them with care, and ascertained whether they have been injured or defaced.

SEC. 9. As often as may be deemed necessary, he shall ascertain by examination of the account of each member, if any book or books have been retained longer than the prescribed time; and if so, shall cause, if possible, the same to be returned or accounted for at once.

SEC. 10. He shall deliver to a member, or to his written order, two volumes, which may be kept two weeks, and by giving notice before due, two weeks more, except in the case of new books, which, until they have been in the Library two months, shall be kept but one week, and shall not be renewed.

SEC. 11. Any member that shall keep a book longer than two weeks, shall pay a fine of two cents each day a book is so kept over time.

SEC. 12. If any member lose or injure a book, he shall make the same good to the Librarian; and if the book lost or injured be one of a set, he shall pay to the Librarian, for the use of the Institute, the full value of the said set, and may thereupon receive the remaining volumes as his property.

SEC. 13. No member shall be permitted to receive a book from the Library until he shall have paid all sums due from him to the Institute, and make good all damages and losses which he may have occasioned.

SEC. 14. No member shall be permitted to speak in a loud tone of voice or wear his hat in the Library Room.

SEC. 15. Books of Reference, and such others as may from time to time be specially designated by the Board, shall not be taken from the Library, except by special permission of the Board of Trustees; provided, however, that newspapers, encyclopedias, dictionaries and atlases, shall in no case be taken from the Library Room.

SEC. 16. Books may be reserved for members on request; but a book shall be held reserved only one day after notice, which shall be promptly given.

SEC. 17. A member may introduce a friend (not a resident of the city) who shall register his name and receive a visitor's card for the term of one month.

SEC. 18. None but members, authorized visitors, and non-residents, paying monthly dues, shall be permitted the privileges of the Institute.

SEC. 19. No member shall be permitted the privileges of the Rooms who refuses to pay dues and forfeitures incurred

REGULATIONS

READING ROOMS.

SECTION 1. The Reading Room shall be open every day throughout the year, from seven o'clock A. M. until ten o'clock P. M., excepting on Sundays, when the Reading Rooms will be open from eight o'clock A. M. to nine o'clock P. M., unless otherwise ordered by the Board.

SEC. 2. Loud conversation and smoking shall not be permitted, except in a room set apart for those purposes.

SEC. 3. No member, other than the officers of the Institute, shall assume the liberty of arranging the books or periodicals upon the tables, or performing any of the duties that develop upon the Librarian or his assistant.

SEC. 4. No member shall be allowed to remove papers from the files, or books, plates, or periodicals from the Reading Rooms.

SEC. 5. Should a member transgress any article in these Regulations, he shall be reported to the Board of Trustees, who may take such measures thereon as they may deem expedient.

SEC. 6. The Regulations of the Library and Reading Rooms shall not be altered, amended or suspended, unless by the votes of eight members of the Board of Trustees present at a regular meeting, notice being given for that purpose.
